

Welcome to Madrid

Las tapas de Ferpal is placed just next to the grocery store with the same name, from where the restaurant gets its raw products. They offer trays of assorted Iberian meat and cheese of the best quality as well as a great variety of beer and international wine.

They also offer a wide variety of tapas, the most famous ones being tostas made with ciabatta bread and their traditional homemade desserts are highly recommended. The speciality in this restaurant is Iberian ham, together with a variety of pork cold meat brought from places where it is traditionally made. They also have good poultry like chicken, duck, goose or foie and an interesting selection of game meat and fish.
