

Casa de la Moneda Museum

Casa de la Moneda Museum is considered one of the most important museums in the world in its genre. The wealth of its collections, its extensive facilities and the scientific development in the research and cultural sphere generated from here, make the museum a unique place to discover the universe of money.

The Museum invites the public to journey through the history of money from its origins, discovering the different forms of money production throughout history. Visitors to its rooms can see important coinage, stamp and pre-stamp collections, notes and other methods of payment, lotteries and games, a historical library, an art collection, machinery and manufacturing tools used by the Fábrica Nacional de Moneda y Timbre-Real Casa de la Moneda, the Spanish mint and stamp factory.
