

Welcome to Madrid

Throughout the month of September the Almudena Cathedral Museum is offering special afternoon guided tours to the museum. These also include a visit to the dome's observation deck from which to enjoy wonderful views of the sunset.

Tickets cost 7€ and must be purchased online. The tour lasts 2 hours.

In accordance with measures introduced by the local government, groups may not exceed 10 people and the tours will begin at 15 minute intervals.

The aim of the Almudena Cathedral Museum is to conserve, exhibit, investigate and communicate testimonies to the history of the diocese of Madrid. The permanent exhibition includes objects of religious and historical-artistic value from the former parish of Santa María de la Almudena, the birthplace of today's cathedral.

A visit to the Almudena Cathedral Museum begins with the different areas of the Cathedral itself: the Chapterhouse and the Vestry, decorated with modern mosaics by the Slovenian priest P. Marko I. Rupnik, s.j. These areas display various objects relating to the origin and history of the Church in Madrid, as well as the two patron saints of the city: Santa María la Real de la Almudena and San Isidro Labrador, including the valuable codex by Juan Diácono, the most ancient document about the life and miracles of San Isidro.

The dome of La Almudena Cathedral

To get to the dome of the La Almudena Cathedral you have to visit the Cathedral's Museum. At a height of over 70 metres, the dome offers stunning views over the Royal Palace, the Plaza de Oriente, the viaduct, and the spectacular dome of the basilica of San Francisco el Grande. The Museum's gallery, although not quite as high as the dome, is still an exceptional vantage point for watching the Changing of the Royal Guard on the first Wednesday of the month on the palace's concourse, weather permitting.
