

Welcome to Madrid

Bodegas Santa Cecilia opened its doors in Madrid during the 1920's as a small family business. Nowadays it is one of the major wine shops in the city, with over 5,000 references, as well as being one of the most modern in the capital. It has kept up with the times and is equipped with interactive points for customer service, plasma screens with their offers and suggestions, free parking, a wine-tasting room and the advice from the house's expert sommeliers.

Another one of their innovations is the Thematic Space devoted to the World of Wine, which is the first one in Spain. With it, they want to transmit their passion for this beverage. One thing that has not changed since its early days is their competitive prices, one of their greatest appeals. Aside from their wines, which come from all five continents, they also have liqueurs from all over the world, select gastronomy, the best brands in accessories for preserving and serving wine and specialized books on the subject.
