

Welcome to Madrid

Original, fun, transgressive, optimist, naughty, extravagant, genuine, timeless: all words to describe Ágatha Ruiz de la Prada's designs. Since 2004, the designer has flooded her shop on the glamorous calle Serrano with her magic; a true microcosmos of positivity and imagination, recommendable not only for shoppers, but also for the curious, seeking to fall under the spell of a different way of creating and understanding fashion.

In Ágatha Ruiz de la Prada' store, there's no room to get bored. The classic, monochrome lines of other leading firms give way to a revolutionary explosion of colours and shapes, which breathe life into every garment by this Madrid designer, who has also turned her hand to designing tiles, cars and kitchen equipment. For anyone struggling to find their way through this world of hearts, flowers, clouds and water droplets in bright reds, yellows, fuchsias, greens and blues, there is a team of advisers available to help them find the most becoming pieces, for women, men and children, as well as for the home: in one section you'll find everything from crockery and glassware to sheets and towels.

Accessories, cosmetics and stationery items (perfumes, plasters, backpacks, jewellery, etc.) complete a range that will definitely include the perfect, most personal gift for any occasion, or to give yourself a little treat. Why not?
