

Suárez

Founded by Emiliano Suárez Faffian in Bilbao in the 1940s, it brought a radically different approach to the concept of jewellery at that time. Since the death of the founder, his sons, the Suárez brothers, have made the Bilbao jeweller's the international emporium we can see today, with stores in Madrid, Bilbao, Barcelona and Marbella and with its own collections

The Suárez brothers have not only made innovations in the collections but also in the design of their stores, where they have sought the skills of today's best interior designers. The Madrid store is located in shopping's "golden mile" and has a large façade facing the street, allowing passers-by to see part of its collections, in which cutting-edge design is combined with the firm's emphasis on traditional workmanship. In line with modern trends, the collections have a timeless quality which is much appreciated by its customers.
