

Galería Cayón

The “Espacio en Blanca” is the Cayón Gallery’s second art establishment in Madrid, located in the former garage of a 1920s building. This gallery has added more than 110 square metres to the exhibition space of the Orfila centre, in a space that is practically open-plan with a height of 4 metres.

Its exhibitions and collections mainly revolve around artists who are concerned about space and the problems and solutions it offers. But it is also interested in individual and collective exhibitions outside of this line such as those dedicated to Josef Albers, Robert Rauschenberg and Andy Warhol, for example.
