

Welcome to Madrid

This legendary venue and nightclub, located in El Retiro Park, is a modern multi-purpose space dedicated to entertainment and gastronomy, and its dinner-shows are particularly popular. There is a restaurant for a la carte dining as well as a tapas bar, in addition to a market with different themed stands, and a lovely terrace with views.

Located in a 19th Century building, over the years it has been many different things, from a spa to a tearoom. As a concert venue and nightclub, it has welcomed the likes of Tina Turner and Ray Charles on stage, and it is said that Ava Gardner was a regular here back in the day. Without losing any of its glamour whilst adapting to these new times, it now hosts productions by the Yllana theatre company, which include the regular performances of a big band as well as weekend shows, entitled Pandora Nights.

Elegant and contemporary, this space was designed by two of the big names in this industry, the interior designer Guillermo García-Hoz and the decorator Pascuà Ortega.
