

Welcome to Madrid

This store in the district of Chueca is the ideal place to buy all your store cupboard essentials, as well as the latest organic products.

Kiki Market has a grocers' section that sells organic products, including 100% organic items and a section for special products for those with allergies or intolerances. On the lower floor we find the Kiki Deli, a restaurant with a vaulted roof and brick walls where you can have breakfast, lunch, afternoon tea and coffee, as well as dinner and organise private events. All the dishes are made using ingredients brought in daily to the market. It also offers different services such as take away, catering, and home delivery.
