

Gran Hotel Inglés

This luxury five-star hotel belonging to the Mallorca chain of exclusive boutique hotels, Hidden Away Hotels, was the first in Madrid in its category, when it opened in 1886. It was also the first to have a restaurant inside. Following a complete refurbishment, today it offers a unique experience, recreating the luxury of the golden 1920s.

The hotel's Art Deco decoration combines elegance, class, comfort and sophistication with a carefully designed lighting project, offering a cosy atmosphere.

The establishment has 48 spacious rooms (all of which are fitted with king-size beds, 500-thread Egyptian cotton linen, smart TV and Wi-Fi, as well as being fully sound-proofed), a large gym, a wellness area, two private dining rooms and a library called the Literary Lounge.

From the culinary point of view, the leading chef, Willy Moya, is at the helm of the kitchens of the Lobo 8 restaurant, whose menu is inspired by traditional cuisine, and the lobby bar, LobByto.
