

Welcome to Madrid

The young chef Alex Marugán and his partner Jesús Encinas run the kitchen of this small restaurant located in Torrijos Market, in the neighbourhood of Goya. With a short menu that varies with each season of the year, it serves up dishes based on market cuisine made using quality ingredients.

Inside it has four tables each seating two people, with a further four tables for four people outside. Booking is recommended.

As well as the set dishes on the menu, the chef offers the possibility to sample other proposals depending on what's on offer in the market. All made traditionally but with some modern touches.
